Tuition Increase Is Announced; Lower Rates For LDS Members

Tuition goes up $80 a year for members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints starting fall semester.

The rate for non-LDS students is an increase of $110, announced Acting President Earl C. Crockett.

AT PRESENT the total cost of registration includes $154 per year for tuition and $86 for fees. The increase will raise these to $220 and $100, respectively.

President Crockett said the additional charge is similar to the out-of-state fees charged by state universities and colleges to all students who do not pay taxes in the state where they study.

The differential is being explained in the new catalog being prepared for the press: "Approximately three-fourths of the cost of operating the University is paid from the tithes of the Church. Therefore, students who are Church members, or their families, already have made money contribution to the operation of the University. To equalize this burden somewhat, it is necessary to charge non-members a higher tuition. Even this higher total payment, however, covers less than half of the total educational cost of non-members of the Church."

According to President Crockett this change does not represent a discrimination against non-members, but is merely a fee adjustment. Dr. Crockett was not available Wednesday for comment concerning how Church members would be identified during registration.

He emphasized that BYU charges are still one-third to one-fifth of those of other private and church-related institutions.

In the state of Utah the other two major universities raised charges this year as much as $300 for residents and $495 for non-residents.

THE PLANNED INCREASE also is far below the national trend. Dr. Crockett pointed out. A survey by the U. S. Office of Education shows average tuition charges for undergraduates at 851 private colleges and universities increased 39 per cent in four years.

Charges in 514 public colleges and universities increased 36 per cent for state residents and 35 per cent for students from outside the state.

The survey showed 98 per cent of the private institutions raised tuition in the period. Eighty-one per cent of the public institutions raised charges to state residents and 61 per cent to non-state residents.

Sir Toby Belch (Joel Justesen) sits on the floor declaiming, "Lechery, I defy lechery," as Malvolvo (Jerry West) and Countess Olivia (Sondra Read) reprove him for being drunk. The Shakespearean comedy opens Thursday.

Double-Plotted Comedy To Begin Four-Night Run wealth Night, considered by critics to be one of Shakespeare's finest comedies, will open a four-night run in the Smith Center stage Wednesday at 8:15.

It is believed by many that the play was written by command of Queen Elizabeth for a special performance of the 12th night of Christmas. When asked what the play should be Shakespeare responded, "Call it 'Twelfth Night' or what you will."

TWELFTH NIGHT is a delightful comedy with two separate plots. One plot of love concerns the wooing of the fair Olivia. The second plot of comedy concerns the harassment of the prudish Malvolvo.

Sebastian and Viola, twins, are lost at sea and both fear the other to be dead. Viola comes to the Duke Orsino and acts as his servant. To do this she poses as a boy. This sets the love plot in motion.

Duke Orsino woos Olivia, Olivia, thinking Viola is a boy woos her. Viola loves the Duke. When Sebastian appears, Olivia thinks it is Viola and marries him. This leaves the Duke for Viola.

INCLUDED in the cast are Sheryl Sandberg as Viola, and Dick Walsh as the Duke Orsino. Sondra Read plays the Countess Olivia and Mel Gish is Sebastian, Viola's brother.

In the comic roles Joel Justesen is Sir Toby Belch and David Christensen is Sir Andrew Aguecheek. Kaye Terry portrays Maria, Olivia's chambermaid, and Jerry West is Malvolvo, Olivia's pompous and prudish attendant. Connie Orr is Festus, the Court Jester.

Dr. Morris Clinger directs the production. Charles Henson designed the set. Technical director is Robert Struthers and costume design is by Beverly Warner.

OTHERS in the cast include John Adams as Fabian, David Mochak as Antonio, Paul Dameron plays the sea-captain, Jim Anderson is Valentine and Dean Bitter is Curio.

Tickets may be obtained at the Smith Ticket Booth by activity card from Thursday till the play closes or tickets are sold out from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Advance reservations for public tickets for $1.50 may be obtained by calling Ext. 2112.

THURSDAY'S WEATHER

It's still going to be shivery-shake weather on BYU campus and since have not made up their minds to be clear or cloudy. Light snow will be scattered, from where to where is anybody's guess.

Dr. Richard Wayne Hales, 37, professor of physics and Utah County Republican chairman, died Tuesday at Salt Lake General Hospital of leukemia.

He had been in apparent good health until he was stricken last Sunday.

DR. HALES HAD been elected last December to head Republican Party affairs in Utah County. Shortly before that he had been given the Provo Peak Award as one of the four most outstanding scouts in Utah National Parks Council.

At the time of his death, in addition to teaching graduate physics at BYU, he was heading an Atomic Energy Commission research project in solar magnetism.

HE WAS a member of the faculty committee for the BYU Honor Program and had chaired the Honors Program seminars. He was chairman of the committee that revised the grading system, and faculty adviser to the Young Republicans on campus.

In civic affairs, Dr. Hales was a charter member of Timpanogos Kiwanis Club, chairman of its membership committee, and just last month had been installed as the club's vice president.

He had served as bishop of the Provo 12th Ward of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and at the time of his death was a member of the Provo district superintendent of the YM-YWCA of East Provo State.

HE IS SURVIVED by his widow Mary Saint of Portland, Ore., whom he met at BYU, their five children: Mary Ellen, Martha Ann, Richard Wayne, Elizabeth Belle, and Thomas Saint. His father, Dr. Wayne B. Dr. R. W. Hales ... died Wednesday after 11 years at BYU.

Richard C. Holleet, currently a TV commentator for CBS analyzing United Nations activities, will speak to the BYU forum assembly Thursday at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

HE BEGAN his career after graduating from Brooklyn College by covering German news stories prior to World War II. After the outbreak of war in Poland, he was arrested by the Nazis but was soon released for a German newsmen held by the United States.

In Cyprus ...

Campaign Organized Against Us

NICOSIA, CYPRUS (UPI)—The United States air-lifted most American women and children off this tense island republic Wednesday as hatred between the Greek and Turkish communities boiled dangerously close to a full-fledged civil war.

THE U. S. Ambassador, standing firm in his bomb-shattered embassy, threatened to call out the Marines to protect remaining American citizens against what he called "an organized campaign against us."

New violence flared in the inter-communal dispute and long-simmering bitterness appeared to be reaching the flash point.

THE FIRST of five chartered airliners carrying American women and children to safety in Beirut, Lebanon, left here early Wednesday.

There are about 17,000 Americans on the island, and more than 800 were aboard the flights.

AN AMERICAN Embassy spokesman said officials would remain in close contact with Americans remaining on Cyprus to protect their lives.

"In case of danger," he said, "we will ask Cyprus police to protect them and, if necessary, will call upon the Marines. You never know where they may drop a bomb next."

U. S. AMBASSADOR Fraser Willard, calling last night's two bomb explosions at the embassy here "a cowardly act," said there was a "general feeling among Greek extremists against the United States."

Ghana Continues Drive Anti-Yankee Campaign

ACCRA, GHANA, (UPI) — A government party newspaper Wednesday fanned the "hate America" campaign by King U. S. officials to assassination attempts against President Kwame Nkrumah.

MORE GHANAIANS staged protest marches outside U. S. embassy Wednesday.

Police surrounded the embassy and the demonstrations were small and brief in comparison with Tuesday when several hundred Ghanaians pulled down U. S. flag and threatened to burn the building.

THE DEMONSTRATIONS, which brought a strong protest in Washington, were instigated by Nkrumah's ruling Convention People's Party (C.P.P.). Party leaders toured the city Tuesday denouncing "American imperialism" and urging the people to march on the embassy.

Wednesday, the official party newspaper Ghanaian Times singled out the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and the Peace Corps in a vitriolic editorial headed: "Damn the Yankees."

THE YANKEE gun-running has come to Ghana," the paper said. "Dopes and tanks who run the murder imported called the CIA are for the blood of Osagyefo (Nkrumah) because he is the biggest threat to their neo-colonial ambitions, because he is clearing the path of socialism, Nkrumah socialism which carry all Africa against the key fabrics of capitalism."

The CIA agents and their Peace Corps subversions failed a gun and bullets. Now they sent treacherous rumors to alarm and panic and to confuse and divide the people."

Safe Cigarettes Gain Stamp By Committee

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — A House Agriculture subcommittee Wednesday unanimously approved a resolution authorizing a multi-million dollar government-backed program designed to make sure that cigarettes are safe.

Sponsored by Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the full Agriculture committee, the resolution would authorize a special study program on tobacco—its production, handling, and manufacture.

Cooley emphasized that he was not contradicting a Public Health Service report which found cigarettes to be harmful.

He said, however, that "we need to clear up many things" because "nobody knows what it is, if anything, in tobacco that might be injurious to health."

In a report issued last month, the Public Health Service labelled smoking a causative factor in lung cancer.

The Veterans Administration issued an order Wednesday banning the distribution of free cigarettes and other tobacco products in its 168 hospitals and 18 domiciliarys. The Public Health Service and the Pentagon took the same action earlier for hospitals under their jurisdiction.

The Veterans Administration said it will couple its ban with an educational campaign to inform patients and hospital employees of health hazards involved in smoking.

Cooley said it would take up to $10 million to get the research program operating on a crash basis.

Congolese Commander Enters Waring Province

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (UPI)—Congolese Army Commander Col. Joseph Mobutu Wednesday went to embattled Kivu province to help direct strategy against thousands of communist-led terrorists who have been killing, looting and burning.

THE NEAR-NAKED terrorists, many of them believed drugged with hashish and convinced of their invulnerability against gunfire, have seized one strategic airfield and threatened another.

The army completed its air-lift of the 3rd Parachute Commando Battalion, commanded by Maj. Joseph (The Terrible) Tshashi, from Katanga province to Kikwit, provincial capital of Kivu. It brought to 1,000 Congolese army strength in the ravaged province.

INFORMED SOURCES said Mobutu went to Kikwit to confer with Tshashi on measures to halt the marauders who have swept across the province without meeting any formidable Congolese army opposition.

The terrorists were reported threatening the garrisons at Idofa, 35 miles east of Kikwit, and Ganga, 60 miles to the Southeast. The Idofa airfield, defended by only 60 Congolese soldiers, was reported in danger.

THE GUNGU airfield was seized by the terrorists who were reported digging in to keep government planes from flying in supplies to the embattled garrison.

The terrorists, armed with bows and poisoned arrows, virtually disregarded a wall of bullets Monday in a wild charge against Congolese Government machinegun emplacements.

Art Professor Returns From European Tour

Dr. Roman Andrus, professor of art at Brigham Young University, recently returned to Provo after spending his sabbatical leave in Europe.

Accompanied by his wife, Dr. Andrus visited the art galleries and museums in England, Scandinavia and continental Europe. While in Switzerland the artist spent two months painting and sketching portraits of the Swiss people and scenery of the Alps. He finished 38 paintings and filled numerous books with drawings. Most of his time was spent at Zollikofen near Bern.

The couple left in June 1963 and spent the greatest part of their visit studying the paintings of the old masters along with those of contemporaries. Each country has collections of world famous artists along with work done by men who were good but had not achieved world fame. It was interesting seeing the variety of paintings done by those men, the artist said. Visits to the homes of the artists and operas and concerts were among the

15th Ranked Utah Prepares To Meet Aggressive Mountain Cats Saturday

The University of Utah's Redskins continue to amaze their fans as they keep on beating some of the highest rated teams in the nation.

FOR A TEAM who was expected to be the underdog in the Western Athletic Conference this year and were not even mentioned in the running for the trophy they are doing extremely well. At the beginning of the season the Utes were not expected to win more than 12 games but so far this season they boast a 15-3 record.

In their last game the Utes beat rival Utah State 79-57. They reversed the score posted in an earlier match this year, State won 84-72. They also recently defeated Stanford University who is one of the teams in the top twenty. The Utah team has beaten three out of four of the top rated teams they have played this year.

THE STANFORD game was perhaps the best game played this season. Both teams played excellent ball and made few of the common mistakes that can cost the game.

Utah's team is a small one as compared to some of the other college teams they have played, the club averages just 6-21 but they have been able to excel on the boards.

So far this season their scoring record percentage seems to be a little below the Jack Gardner average, being 41.2. Even so, four starters on the Redskin team, Doug Moon, George Fisher, Skip Kroeger and Spence Thurgood have had pretty balanced shooting, all getting in the double figures. Together they have a 450 average which does make the picture a little better than the total team mark shows.

Coach Jack Gardner will probably not change his lineup for the Brigham Young game this weekend. The same five have started all season. Fisher and Thurgood at forwards, Dennis Couch at center and Moon and Kroeger (as guards).

GARDNER'S TEAMS have always been tough contenders in any situation and this year especially. They are also strong on their home floor where the Cougars will travel to on Saturday. Tickets for this game have been all sold out but it will be broadcast over KSL radio station at 8:00 p.m.

The Ute crew may see a bit too much of Jeff Congdon in the Saturday night game with BYU.

Slalom Races Open Winter Carnival

One of the most exciting events on the intramural schedule will get under way Friday as the Winter Carnival Opens.

Included on the Winter Carnival agenda is competition in speed skating, figure skating, broomball hockey, and downhill and slalom skiing.

The first scheduled event will be the slalom ski run scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. Friday. The events will follow the following schedule (all events will be run at Timp Haven). Men's C will start on the tree line course; they will be followed by women's C and Women's B. The Class A men will begin at the top of the face, while women's A and Men's B will start fifteen yards below top of face. All slalom courses will finish at the bottom of face.

THEN AT 5 p.m. Friday, figure skating competition will begin at the Winter Gardens. All skaters will be rated on forward skating, backward skating, forward cross overs, spiral turns, and one minute of free skating. Although men and women will skate in separate classifications, there will be no further classification of skaters this year as there has been in years past.

On Tuesday evening the Broomball Hockey tournament will be played between 4 and 7 p.m. All teams will play at either 4 or 4:30 and will continue in a single elimination tournament. Each team member is expected to furnish his own broom for the contests which will be played with ten minute halves.

WEDNESDAY, Winter Gardens Ice Arena will be the scene of speed skating competition at 6 p.m. with action beginning with the women's 100 yard dash. The men will then try a 200 yd. dash.

Next on the agenda is the women's 400 yd. shuttle relay between teams of four participants each, followed by the men's 400 yd. shuttle relay.

The scene will then change back to Timp Haven for the closing events of the color Winter Carnival Week. Feb. 6. Downhill skiing will conclude the athletic portion of the week. The races will begin at 2 p.m. Students interested would probably find their best vantage point at the end of the race just north of the chair lift.

THOSE INTERESTED in participating in any event are encouraged to contact Jay Naylor, Intramural Director at 232 Smith Fieldhouse for further information.

Class A BYU skier Dick Steiger is getting hungry for the trophy in the slalom course as he practices for the event.

Hockey at Winter Gardens . . .

Pioneer Pucksters To Host Denver

The Utah Valley Pioneer hockey squad return to home action this weekend when they host Bill Abbott and his powerful Denver Allstar squad with a pair of games, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Winter Gardens Arena.

ABBOTT WILL bring a strong squad made up mainly of ex-all stars from various universities including Denver, Pennsylvania, Michigan State and Princeton.

The former Denver University ring-wing star has led these all-stars to several victories in the Far West Hockey Tourney held annually in Squaw Valley, site of the 1960 Winter Olympics, and notched a pair of conquests over the Pioneers last season in Provo by 5-3 and 6-4 counts.

The Denver puckmen boast a number of outstanding American hockey stars including Steve Abel, Dan McKenna, Steve Landis, Garry Tippit, Jack Ferguson and Jack McBride. Abel, McKenna and Landis are defensemen for the Coloradans and the latter trio are forwards.

DEFENSIVELY THE Denver players are strong, with Larry Beauchamp handling the all-important goalie duties and Gene Daniels rounding out the rest of the defense. The remaining forwards will be Bill Masterson, Joe Slattery, Bruce Dickson and Jack Smith. Dickson was a member of Canada's 1952 Olympic hockey championship Pentecost.

Coach Dick Witcomb of the Pioneers will probably use a starting lineup of lightning-fast Ron Kinnee, Leo Kienler and Jerry Heek at forward and Mal-

Pioneer Coach . . . Witcomb

Turner and Ted Haynes on defense with the nod going to Jack Shovelier to handle the netminding chores.

The second line will probably consist of Ed Nodelov, Frank Meidin and Harvey Poppek at forward and Don Saari and Don Miller holding the defensive line.

THE THIRD line remains somewhat of a question with Ken Branchuk, Ken Bray, Mike Morris and Ed Hitchner all listed as possible starters. Bill Wylie and Jerry Rumble will handle the defensive duties.

The Pioneers have posted a season record of 2-2-1 with victories over Salt Lake and Montana State, losses to Stockton and Sacramento and a tie to the Grizzlies of Montana State.

In the Pioneers' most recent action they dropped a pair to two California clubs in Stockton and Sacramento in the California cities.

PLAYING in pint-sized arenas the Pioneers couldn't seem to get untricked or used to playing with a reduced team of two forwards, two defensemen and the goalie and dropped a close 8-7 decision to Stockton, then were whopped 12-4 by an Allstar squad from Sacramento.

Playing under unfamiliar international rules (same as used in Olympic action) the Pioneers wound up with over 100 minutes in penalties against Stockton.

Read! Says Committee

"Students have mentioned they don't know what's going on at the debates we've sponsored," commented Cheryl Lynn of the Academic Emphasis Committee. It's because they haven't read the Books of the Year.

The three books are David Reisman's The Lonely Crowd, William H. Whyte, Jr.'s The Organization Man and Ayn Rand's The Fountainhead.

Mrs. Lynn commented, "Reading these books is the best way I know to keep from becoming a cultural wasteland."

The Lonely Crowd and The Organization Man are particularly important because they initiated a "whole new context of definition" and "you won't know what magazines are talking about unless you've read these books."

SHE REMARKED that the debates assumed heightened importance when modern sociological trends saying that "an effective member of a group is more important than an effective individual" are contrasted with our traditional Mormon values.

Speaking of The Fountainhead, she enthused, "It's so neat I can't believe it—the best escape literature I've ever read." The novel condenses the mass-oriented society Dr. Reisman, she noted, thanks books like this are garbage because they just signify inner escape for the "wildly unfettered" individuals too weak to meet society.

All three books are on reduced sale in the bookstore.

We urge you to learn still more about Astronautics—the important completely space-oriented division of General Dynamics Corporation—by listening to the 33 1/3 rpm recording offered below and by following news of Astronautics' activities and accomplishments in your newspaper, trade magazines and technical journals.

For more information and a personal interview, visit the Astronautics representative who will be on your campus soon.

Inspiring Achievements More payload tonnage has been lifted into space by Astronautics-developed launch vehicles than by any other family of launch vehicles in the free world. Pictured above is the historic, late-1963 flight of the liquid hydrogen-fueled Centaur boosted by an Atlas launch vehicle. The high-energy Centaur is planned for soft-landing the nation's first interplanet package on the moon.

Ideal Location San Diego, California is the capital of moderate climate in the nation. Outdoor sports and recreation are year-round activities for enjoyment of your leisure hours.
